

The prestigious medical journal, Medical Hypotheses, has published an article by Professor C. Alan B. Clemetson titled “Barlow's Disease.” It seems to be reappearing under a different guise, when infants with borderline vitamin C depletion are assaulted with too many inoculations at one time. Moreover, it is now sometimes mistakenly diagnosed as child abuse.

For more information

Contact: Professor C. A. B. Clemetson, MD, School of Medicine, Tulane University, 5844 Fontainebleau Drive, New Orleans, LA 70125 USA, Phone: 504-866-1525

doi: 10.1016/S0306-9877(02)00114-7 available online at www.idealibrary.com

Those not familiar with the Yurko case, see: www.freeyurko.bizland.com/appeal.html